

Clinical Affairs Manager (m/f)

about us

Cardiobridge is a medical device company that develops and manufactures innovative mechanical circulatory support systems. At Cardiobridge we are passionate about improving lives of heart failure patients. For our Headquarters in Hechingen, South Germany, we are looking for a Clinical Affairs Manager to support our fast growth.

about the job

Cardiobridge is looking for a passionate and talented Clinical Affairs Manager, who successfully leads and manages clinical projects. The CAM is responsible for the effective planning, organization, and coordination of clinical projects.

about the key responsibilities

- Performing site selection, initiation, monitoring, and close-out visits
- Manage the Clinical Evaluation Report
- Submitting and preparing documents for regulatory activities (e.g. BfArM or FDA)
- Establishing regular lines of communication plus administering protocol and related study training to assigned sites

about your qualifications

- Successful clinical affairs or clinical research experience required; Experience in Class III or active medical devices preferred
- Ability to coordinate and lead with indirect authority;
- Should be familiar with the laws, regulations, standards, and guidelines governing the conduct of medical affairs and clinical studies
- Excellent communication (in German and English) and organizational skills
- Self-starter and enthusiastic mentality
- Willingness to travel

about the work environment

- Young, highly motivated and dedicated team
- Low hierarchies
- Challenging and diverse projects
- Interdisciplinary tasks
- Fast-changing high-tech industry

If you want to join our team, please send your applications, including availability and desired salary, to (Karim El Banayosy) career@cardiobridge.com